THE SENATE
CANADA

THIS is a MESSAGE of FAREWELL and of WELCOME
to the CLASS of 1967.

Farewell to the undergraduate days
of happy association with your fellow students under the guidance of your learned and interested professors; Farewell to the midnight hours of study and the anxious days of examinations; Farewell to that intangible and indescribable something which made your college life so dear to you and which will keep forever
fresh in your memories those incomparably precious undergraduate years.

Welcome to the gateway to a fuller
life of wide horizons where unlimited opportunities await those who seek for mankind a fuller life
in things material, spiritual and intellectual.
The prospect is pleasing. The future beckons you,
the graduates, who are prepared and daring.

Chancellor

WATERLOO LUTHERAN UNIVERSITY

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

WATERLOO, ONTARIO
TELEPHONE: (519) 744-8141

To the Class of 1967:

Congratulations upon reaching this milestone in your life of learning!

Before stones are arranged to support one another and form an archway, they are a useless pile. When a stonemason organizes them to make an arch, a keystone holds them in place. Lives are like that. We are born with an arsenal of abilities and a bundle of emotions all with their own inherent centrifugal force. As we begin to assume more and more responsibility for our thoughts and actions, we essay to pull ourselves together on the basis of some vital concern that captures our loyalty.

The central conviction of your life, the force which determines the use of your knowledge and resources, can be self-centeredness. You may strive for personal status at the expense of others; for wealth--unmoved by poverty; for a life free from responsibility--expecting others to provide for your welfare.

If we acknowledge that modern life is never free from relationships with others, it is not difficult to see that a keystone of selfishness brings unhappiness, even disaster. The age-old biblical admonition to lose life so that we may find it has the ring of a technological society in which men work together. To give one's self in the service of fellow-men is the keystone that holds together the archway of a godly life.

As you mount the platform to be admitted to the Convocation of graduates who have preceded you at this university, I am satisfied that you will have mastered the areas of knowledge that entitle each of you to receive an academic degree. I hope you will also have discovered and put in place the keystone for your life. God be with you.

Yours sincerely,

WATERLOO LUTHERAN SEMINARY

WATERLOO, ONTARIO
TELEPHONE: (519) 744-8141

TO THE GRADUATES OF 1967:

Your class, numerically, is the largest ever to graduate from Waterloo Lutheran Seminary. This fact brings great joy to a multitude of persons in our Synod and Church who, through the years, have prayed and worked valiantly for the growth of our Seminary and for a large and constant stream of young men from our Seminary to serve our Lord in the ordained ministry of the Church as well as in other forms of ministry.

How I personally have longed to see so large a class as yours graduate from Waterloo! For me your class is the answer to much prayer. The first class to graduate following my acceptance of what I believed to be a true call from God to leave a very happy ministry to begin another in a strange land where my family and I did not know one single person, numbered one solitary graduate, whose consequent ministry, I must add, has been a source of joy to me. I began my ministry with the firm conviction that "except the Lord build the House they labor in vain that build it." Very humbly I now say to you, the Lord has surely answered my prayers and those of my beloved co-workers on the faculty of the Seminary and of our University and in the Synod. The numerical size of your class is living testimony to this. God builds His Kingdom, how and when and where He wills. "You are God's field, God's building," I Cor. 1: 9, not ours.

But there is another reason for my personal joy as I bid you farewell and God speed. This is the sense of commitment, dedication and readiness to invest your lives in the people of our world, for Christ's sake. Those persons who get most out of life are surely those who give themselves for the sake of others. Never forget - he who loses his life for Christ's sake forever finds it. In such as you rests the hope of the world.

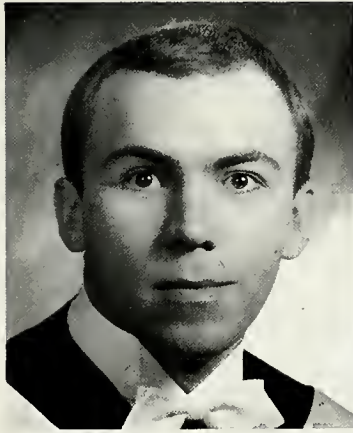

You will continue to be in my prayers! Please remember me in yours!

Faithfully,

To the Master's Graduates of 1967 —

May I, as Chairman of the Council of Graduate Studies in Arts, extend my warmest congratulations to each of you upon the completion of your Master's degree. I know that some of you will now turn directly to the practical application of your advanced academic experience while others, appetite stirred, look forward to further studies. Whichever course is yours, I hope you will always remember that what you have accomplished is a beginning only and that you will allow your spirit of enquiry free rein to make you ever more knowledgeable and ever more tolerant. To listen is to learn but your education must serve you as a criterion for choice. You have a most valuable asset. It is for you to make it grow and prosper.

As you go on to further accomplishments and contributions may our sincere good wishes go with you.

Neale H. Tayler, Ph.D.
Chairman,
Council of Graduate Studies in Arts.

STUDENTS' COUNCIL

from the President

"Reflect well for you are young and of an age to learn."

—Socrates

Whether three or four years have been spent at Waterloo Lutheran University they have gone quickly. Looking back they seem very short years indeed. And yet very few years have been so full of experience and growth.

During your undergraduate years you have been building a base as firm and as broad as you could make it for the superstructure which succeeding tomorrows will place upon it.

The class of 1967 faces sharp challenges—and so did all its predecessors. The world has become a crowded and complex place.

If the world of today offers challenges, it also holds innumerable opportunities. Never has it offered a more encouraging welcome to every talent and to every willing hand or mind. Whether one desires to work with things or with people, whether one's talent is in the world of ideas or of practical affairs, there is a chance to make progress toward one's goal.

As you ascend the various paths toward your goal you will develop new friends and interests. Much of your energy and abilities will, of course, be directed into your work. But do not, under the pressure of earning a living, forget how to live. Intangibles such as friendships are too precious to be lost by default.

Take time to develop these more intangible aspects of life. Make use of your capabilities to communicate with others. It will always stand you in good stead. For, no matter what the future holds, if one can communicate his ideas to another, he will succeed.

When the graduates look back from ten, twenty or thirty years hence I trust that they will look back with the same gratifying satisfaction, affection and pride as I shall on the formative years they spent at Waterloo Lutheran University.

Sincerely,

Stephen J. Little

What price education?

It is beyond price! Education cannot be bought, borrowed, or inherited. The only way to obtain it, is to earn it. Stelco recognizes its value, and the increasing need for it, in today's highly-competitive atmosphere . . . and also recognizes that specialized education is denied to many deserving young Canadians through lack of funds. This is why Stelco sponsors a program of assistance to universities, technical schools, and students across Canada, by providing awards, scholarships and bursaries in Technology, Engineering, Science, Business Administration, Teaching, Commerce, and Finance.

For further information on this program, or on a career in steel, write to Stelco's Head office in Hamilton, Ontario.

Keystone '67 is finished.

Closing this year's Keystone brings back many memories of the four years spent at Waterloo Lutheran. We hope that you will be able to share this nostalgia as you page through the book.

Keystone '67 is different.

It differs from its predecessors in format. The number of sections has been reduced in an attempt to present a balanced picture of university life. The first four sections present the campus and its organized activities; the last focuses on the individual.

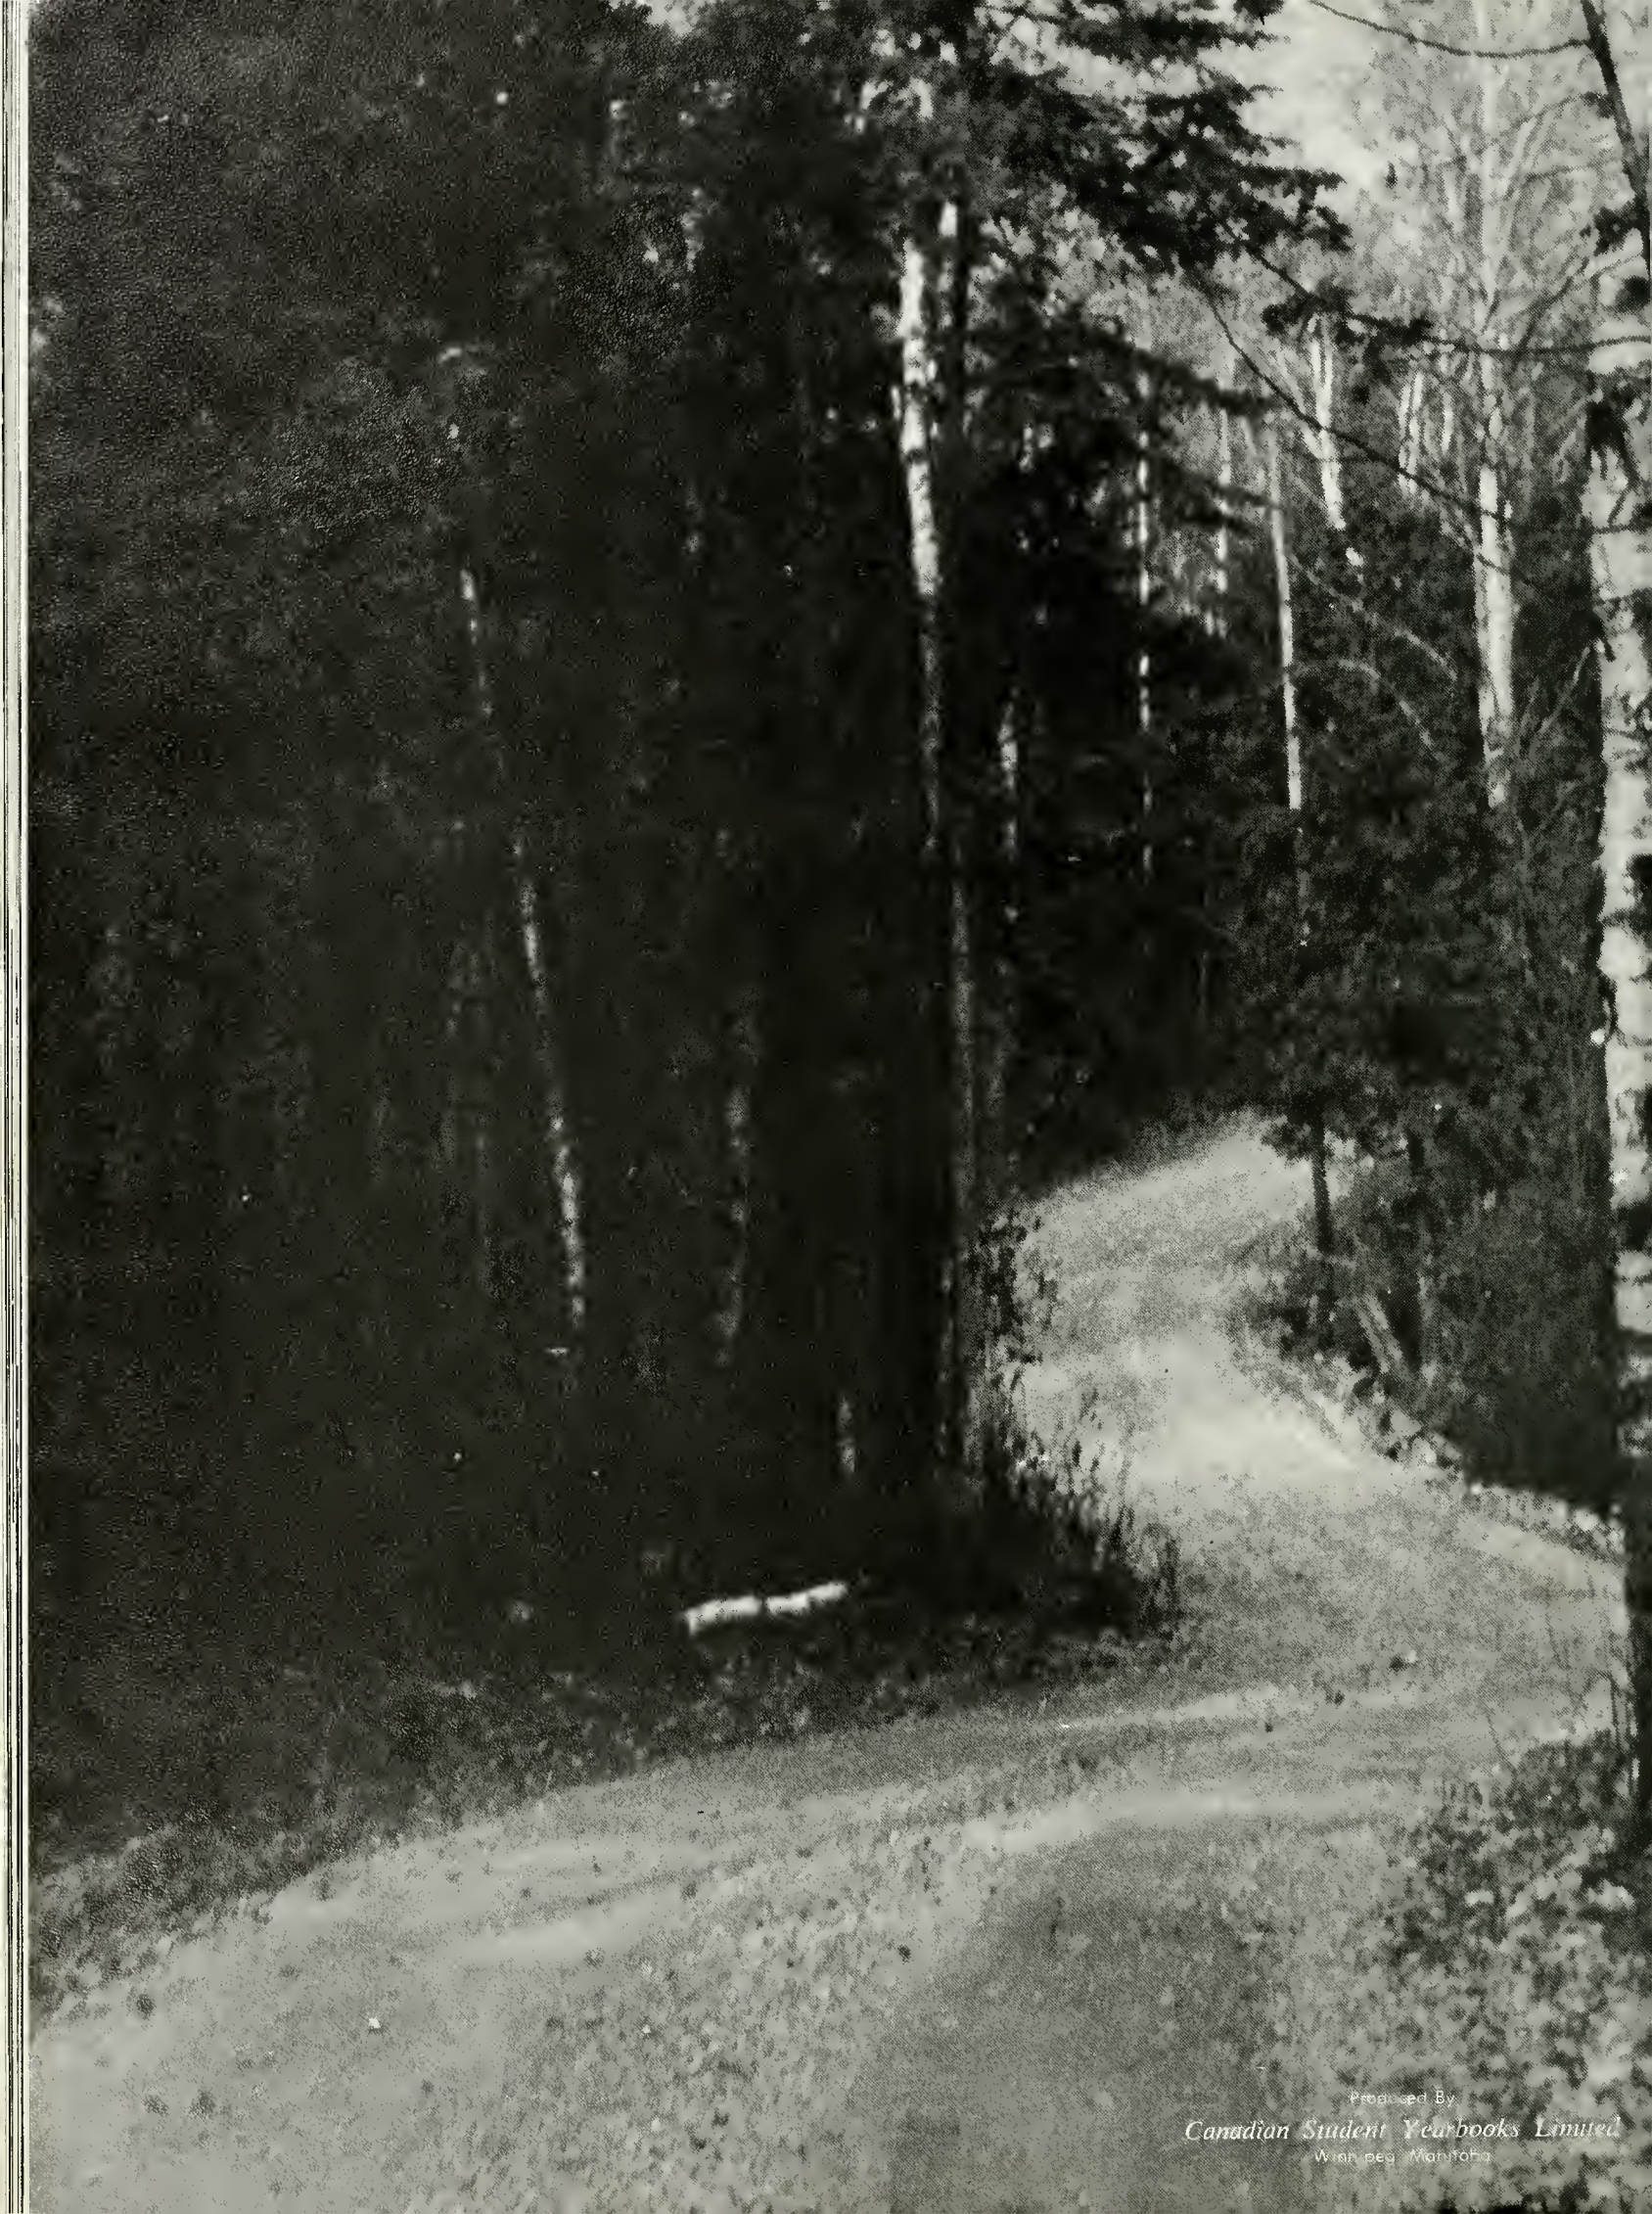

Keystone '67 is the effort of many.

Our sincere thanks go to those of you who have taken an interest in the book, and who have freely offered your help and advice.

Keystone '67 is yours. May you enjoy it.

B.M."
